"Goodnight Corns!" We Use 'Gets-It'!"

3 Drops in 2 Seconds. That's All. "GETS-IT" Does the Rest.

Never Fails. "Really, I never could see how some few people use the most difficult and painful way they can find to get rid of corns. They'll wrap their toes up with bandages into a package that fills their shoes full of feet and makes corns so painful they've got to walk sideways and wrinkle up their faces. Or they use salves that eat right into the toe and make it raw and sore, or they'll use plasters that make the corns bulge, or pick and gouge at their corns and make the toes bleed. Funny, isn't it? "GETS-IT" is the simple, modern remedy for corns. Just put three drops on it. It dries instantly. No pain, fuss or trouble. The corn, callus or wart loosens and comes off. Millions use nothing else.

EARLY SNOW OF 1843.

Lady of Barnet Writes of Experiences She Remembers.

Seeing an item in your paper of the snow storm on Oct. 23, 1843, I thought I would tell of some things that happened at that time in Barnet. Saturday was a fine, warm, beautiful day, and our folks shook off a lot of apples, more than they could gather, and as the snow came before any frost the apples were sound and fresh in the spring, but tasted of the ground so badly they could not be used. The potatoes that were in the ground were all right and were taken to the starch factory which was at South Peacham.

Of the wedding party, one of the Presbyterian ministers was Rev. William Pringle, the father of A. B. Pringle, who now lives at St. Johnsbury Center. His wife was a native of Cambridge, N. Y.

George G. Galbraith and Jane Esden of Barnet were married that fall.

Mr. Melendy has been crippled since his boyhood days, the left knee being stiff as the result of an injury. He is the station agent and was engaged in his regular work of inspecting the cars when the accident occurred.

The bones protruded from the flesh and the cloth from his stocking and trousers was jammed deep into the wound. Eight men assisted in carrying him to his home, a short distance from the station. Dr. Millington was in attendance in a short time. He found it necessary in dressing the wound to remove an inch and a half of the larger bone between the knee and ankle. He was assisted by Dr. Galvin of Londonderry and Dr. Havens of Chester, who were in consultation in Londonderry.
